

June means Father's Day, Weddings, and Teacher Gifts.
 We can help you find the perfect items for your important occasions!

Up Close and Personal

With a little patience, this Handheld Hummingbird Feeder will bring the hummers in for a closer look. Sit quietly near an established feeder and they will soon be curious...$4

Birthday Cake

Birdy Birthday Cake suet is formulated for fledglings and parent birds. Finely ground, soft, and available only in nesting season...$4.75

Woodpecker Deterrent

Woodpeckers can be a nuisance when tapping on your house incessantly. This noise-activated Attack Spider will keep them away. It just wiggles and drops down on a string when the loud pecking begins...$44

Audubon Snack Shack

We've already had great customer feedback on this handsome Squirrel-Resistant Feeder. It has weight-activated perches to keep squirrels out by closing access to the seed tray...$68

Gargoyles and Dragons

Gargoyle statues are a common symbol in garden decor today but do you know what the gargoyle symbolizes? The word comes from the French "gargouille" meaning "throat", referring to the long necks on gargoyles used to direct water away from medieval buildings. The belief was also that frightening figures could scare away evil spirits, and they were put on the outsides of buildings to do just that. Dragons can represent many things such as power, wisdom, and magic. I like the idea of the dragon as a guardian of your home and family, just as it would guard its gold treasure. When you incorporate these statues into your garden, what matters most is that it means something to you. It may create a sense of mystery, have you dream of another time, or make you laugh. Gargoyles and dragons will add a unique focal point or element of surprise to your home garden.

Copper Fountains

These best-selling fountains are by London artist, Dave Murray. Combined with natural rock, the hand cut copper leaves create a unique and defining piece of art for your yard...$80-120 (pump & bowl sold separately)

FEATHERFIELDS
 The Bird and Garden Store

1570 Hyde Park Road, London, ON

519-474-1165

Mon - Fri 10-5:30 • Sat 10-5 • Sun 12-4

Enjoyed this newsletter? Please forward it to anyone you think might also enjoy reading about us. Featherfields welcomes your comments.

You can contact us at:

featherfields@featherfields.com

We never sell or share your personal information.